Re: domain <http://ragezone.com>

Dear Sirs:

I am writing to you on behalf of my client, the software games publisher OP Productions, LLC (the “Publisher”), in connection with a website, <http://forum.ragezone.com/f794/4playfun-deadz-professional-staff-24-a-924317/> (the “Website”), provided by or on behalf of an entity whose identity has yet to be determined (the “Infringer”). It has come to Publisher’s attention that, without Publisher’s authorization or consent, Infringer, using, as Publisher believes, pirated source code for and/or related to the Publisher Game (as defined below), is promoting, and is offering for download and play by end users, including without limitation via the Website, an interactive multiplayer online software game for PC and other web-browsing platforms entitled “DEADZ”, as evidenced by the DEADZ forum and download information reproduced in Exhibit A hereto (collectively, the “Infringing Game”). The Infringing Game is identical to Publisher’s commercially released, massively multiplayer online game, “The War Z” (the “Publisher Game”), and it is clear that Infringer has illegally obtained access to Publisher’s servers and has illegally obtained source code for both the Publisher Game client (downloaded executable) and for the back-end server that hosts the Publisher Game.

Publisher’s copyright and other intellectual property rights in and to the Infringing Game client and server software object code and source code (collectively, the “Intellectual Property”) embodied in the Infringing Game and featured on the Website and in any associated advertising and marketing materials are owned and/or controlled by Publisher. Infringer’s Website is hosted on servers for which Whois Privacy Protection Service, Inc. (“WPPS”) is listed as the registered contact by Network Solutions.

By this letter, we are requesting that WPPS immediately take down the Website and all associated assets in order to terminate the infringing and illegal activities of Infringer.
